“The VSS700 is an excellent value, with picture quality as good or better than any of the more expensive machines. The detachable probe is a huge advantage, because we simply keep an extra probe on hand and have no down time when a probe is damaged. The low price allows for enhanced biosecurity since we no longer need to share scanners.”

R. J. Corns, Iowa Select Farms

“We have several VSS700 units in our system and everyone likes their portability and finds them very easy to use, especially with our pen gestation. The picture quality and durability have been exceptional and their low cost has allowed us to put additional preg checkers in some of our smaller units. Overall we are very happy with the price and performance of the VSS700.”
